CONGRESS TO-DAY

ALLEGED ELECTION OUTRAGES TAKEN UP IN THE SENATE.

The Rouse Considers the Postoffice Appropriation Bill The Legislative Bill Reported to the Senate-The President to Sign the Omnibus Bill To-morrow.

The "morning hour" in the Senate to-day was nearly two hours long. A number of reports, petitions and small bills occupied the time. Mr. Hoar and Mr. Allison the time. Mr. Hoar and Mr. Allison fidgeted about in their chairs and alter-nately watched the clock and each other, each trying to "get the drop" on the other, Mr. Hoar for his Elections resolution and Mr. Allison for his Sundry Civil bill. See ing the great anxiety of his Massachusetts colleague to have the Elections resolution talked over, Mr. Allison consented to yield a little, and the decks being cleared for action Mr. Gorman opened fire on the resolu-

In the House to-day when Mr. Randall Speaker's eye he held two papers in his hand. Seeing this Mr. Mills and Mr. Breckfuridge of Kentucky held a whispered consultation, exchanged winks and kept their eye on Mr. Randall. When opportunity offered, Mr. Randall presented the first paper, which was a resolution fixing 10 o'clock as the hour for the meeting of the House bereafter. This would afford a splendid opportunity for consideration of the Cowles Revenue bill. Mr. Breckinridge objected and the resolution went to the Committee on Rules. Mr. Randali then offered a resolution providing a day for the early consideration of the Cowles Mr. Mills moved its reference to the Committee on Rules as an alternative to its adoption, which was ordered. A majority of this committee, however, favors the Cowles bill. All this time Mr. Blount of Georgia was chafing sorely. His Postoffice Appropriation bill is slowly dragging its length along, and he wants to expedite its passage. Mr. Randall having disposed of his measures satisfactorily, Mr. Blount was allowed the floor, and the Postoffice Appropriation bill came up.

In the Senate to-day Mr. Spooner, from the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, made a report as to the refusal o rising Architect's office of the Treasury, to answer, during the investigation of tha office, certain questions as to whether o not be had received any money from any Government employe during the last campaign for campaign purposes. The witness had declined to answer on The witness had declined to answer on the ground that it was a private matter. The report states that subsequently Fiste was examined before the full committee and again declined to answer on the same ground. The committee, therefore, reported a resolution directing the President of the Senate to issue his warrant commanding the Sergeant-at-Arms forthwith to arrest and bring to the bar of the Senate Thomas D. Fister, to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

Mr. Morgan said that the resolution presented some delicate points of law, and objected to its present consideration. It went over until to-morrow. Mr. Spooner said that he would be absent from the Senate to-day and to-morrow, and would call up the resolution next Monday.

THE SUNDAY REST LAW.

Mr. Stockbridge presented two large packages of petitions in favor of the "Sunday rest law," and sent them to the clerk's desk by a couple of pages, who were hardly able to carry them.

COMPILATION OF STATE PAPERS Mr. Hawley reported from the Committee on Printing a joint resolution for printing 10,000 copies of the Inaugural address in chronological order, from George Washington to Benjamin Harrison (inclusive), covering the first century of the inauguration of Presidents of the United States, togethe with certain historical data connected with the Inaugural Coremonies and brie biographical sketches of the President and steel engravings of the Capitol and Whit House—3,000 copies for the use of the Senate, 6,000 for the use of the House and 1,000 for the use of the compilers and editors—who are to have the right to use the plates in getting out a second edition.

The resolution was amended so as to embrace the farewell addresses of Washington and Jackson; a suitable index by subjects; the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. The resolution was placed on the calendar.

Mr. Flymph reported back the Agriculture of the place of the presented back the Agriculture. 10,000 copies of the Inaugural address in Constituion. The resolution was placed on the calendar.

Mr. Plumb reported back the Agricultural Department bill and said he would call it up when the Sundry Civil bill was disposed of. The Senate bill was passed to anthorize the sale of a tract of land on the military reservation of Fort Leavenworth, at not less than $300 per acre. The resolution reported from the Committee on Privileges and Elections to investigate alleged election outrages in certain States was then taken up.

election outrages in certain States was then taken up.

When the resolution had been read Mr. Saulsbury moved to insert the word "bribery," and the amendment was accepted. Mr. Pasco moved to insert the words "or other unlawful use of money," and this amendment was also accepted. Mr. Gorman said he objected to the resolution, because he believed there was no necessity whatever for bringing the question to the attention of the Sanato in its closing hours. He reminded Senators of the offer made by Mr. Harris on behalf of the Democratic side of the Chamber to yote upon the resolution without debate and of the refusal of the Republican side to accept the offer.

At 3 o'clock the Sundry Civil bill was taken up, the pending question being the amendment relating to steam printing presses in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

Mr. Blair made a speech arainst the use

Printing.

Mr. Blair made a speech against the use of the steam presses, and was followed by Mr. Call in the same strain.

In the House to-day Mr. Randall presented a resolution amending the rules so as to provide that on blank date, imme-diately after the reading of the journal, and at 4 o'clock a vote shall be taken, and making this order continuous. It was referred to the Committee on Rules. He also offered a resolution providing for a daily objection by Mr. Breekinridge of Kentucky this also went to the committee.

A NIGHT SESSION PREVENTED, Mr. Chipman of Michigan tried to secure a session for to-night for the consideration of resolutions, accepting on behalf of the United States the statue of Lewis Cass presented by the State of Michigan, but Mr. Crisp of through objected on the ground that the Democrats desired to hold a cancus to-night. Mr. Chipman's effort to scence a session for Saturday night was also montreessful, the Speaker calling attention to the fact that saturday afternoon had been assigned for the consideration of resolutions relative to the death of the Hon, James N. Burnes.

Mr. Chipman made one more attempt to procure a night senden, this time for Monday night, but Mr. Bandall objected. He then desisted and the Home went into Committee of the Whole on the Postoffice Appropriation bill.

On motion of Mr. Adams of Illinois the salary of superintendents of registry at Chicago and Washington was fixed at forty per cent: of the salary of the postmaster.

Mesers, Adams and Lawier made vigorous efforts to have the pay of letter-carriers increased, but they were unsuccessful.

DAY FOR ALUMNI

UNIVERSITY GRADUATES REVIVE MEMORIES OF GEORGETOWN.

Gaston Memorial Hall Crowded With the Friends of the College Come to Hear the Centennial Ode and Oration-Congratulations Received From the Pope.

The swinging, sensuous strains of Meyer beer's Coronation March pulsed through the lofty Geston Memorial Hall and echoed up amongst its bare wooden rafters this erning at the Georgetown University, splendidly rendered by a perfectly-balanced reliestra of over forty pieces. To-day was the second day of the venerable old col-lege's centenary celebration, and it merited consideration it received at the hands of the weather. A perfect winter day it was, and a bracing wind residenced the cheeks of the gray-haired wives of the older of the alumni as well as the plumper cheeks of the atumn as well as the plumper cheeks of the sweethearts of the younger of them.

For it was alumni day.
The hall was filled before 10 o'clock. The galleries and half the chairs on the floor were allotted to the general public, and these were filled before 10:30. A large proportion of the audience was ladies, mothers and sweethearts of the younger alumni and wives and daughters of old ones. The

The college chimes, as they marked 11 o'clock, rang through the lofty hall as the orchestra finished the overture, and a squad of the gray-coated college cadets filed in and halted beside the steps leading up to the centre of the temporary stage, raised four or five feet above the floor at the western end of the hall. Presenting arms they stood rigidly still while the distinguished clergy and alumni who occupied the platform climbed up the half dozen steps to the platform.

Among them were three of the Corean legation, who, though not of the alumni, occupied seats just to the right of President James V. Coleman in the front row of chairs on the platform, and they were occupied by distinguished members of the clergy and the college's alumni. On President Coleman's left sat Rev. Father J. Havens Richards, the rector of the university, serene, smiling, happy and proud of the college's hundred years' work as shown by her alumni.

Comissis, W. T., Feb. 21,-A sensational story comes from Carbon County which brings Mrs. Kate Maxwell, the owner of a cattle ranche, into prominence us a daring and desperate woman, whose career may rival that of the notorious Belle Starr Mrs. Maxwell is known among ranchmen as "Cattle Kate," and has in her employ about twenty cowboys. The cowboys have been lossing very heavily lately at a faro-game in Bessenor, run by Farley & Good win. Kate besame convinced they were teing robbed, and, accompanied by he foreman, both armed to the teeth visited the place Monday night. With a six-shooter in each hand, Kate orderest the faro dealer to rget out." He "got," and while she kept the gamblers covered, the forman examined the cards and box and found the game was a "there ware." been, lowing very heavily lately at a faro found the game was a "brace game."
When this was explained to the big crowd that was present there was a wild rush made for Farley and Goodwin, and they were dragged outside and badly beaten.
Some of the crowd went for ropes, and the

THE LATEST FROM HAYTL.

The Army Under Hippolyte Routed and Many Killed. Boston, Mass., Feb. 21.—The latest news from Hayti is furnished by the second officer of the steamship Delta at this port from Port Depaix. The officer states that there is no communication between the constwise towns, but information was received February 12 from a native mail carrier, who had just arrived from St. Marc, of a serious conflict between the Northern and Southern armies that oc-Northern and Southern armies that oc-curred three days before, one mile below St. Mare, in which the army under Hippo-lyte had been completely routed and 200 or 300 killed. The mail-carrier said that the Northerns had first blockaded the Port of St. Mare, after which Legitime's army moved toward the interior, and on the second day's march encountered a detach-ment of Hippolyte's army with the above result. The success of the Legitime sol-liers was due to the superiority of their arms. The second officer also states that a rumor had gained considerable currency at Port Depaix that Hippolyte had been killed by a Northern soldier, who it was claimed received $2,000 for the work.

A Valorous Negro Rewarded. D. C.: "Leo XIII. congratulates Georgetow College on its prosperity, and wishes God speed to its rector, professors, faculty and alumni." God speed to its rector, professors, faculty and alumni."

A cablegram of hearty congratulation was also read from the University of Christiana, Sweden, and from Notre Dame. Then Conde B. Pallen, A. M., read the centennial ode, a splendid poem, splendidly read. It recounted, in verse of heroic metre, the honors of his Alma Mater, what she had done for humanity and civilization and progress and what she would do. Mr. Pallen is a well-known and widely-read figure in Catholic journalism. He is a young, studious-looking man, and his delivery was excellent. Before the oration the orchestra played a popular fantasia, and then the Rev. Father Murphy introduced Martin F. Morris, LL.D., of Boston, one of the older alumni, who made the centennial oration. In it he reviewed the history of the old college and kept pace. He told now anarchism is gaining ground, and said that education was its only certain remedy. The welfare and prosperity and the very life of the Republic, he said, depended on the education of the people. We need, he said, the education of both the intellect and the heart. These both make the perfect man.

After Judge Morris finished his scholarly oration Rev. Father Murphy rose and read a large number of letters of congratulation, some in Latin and some in English, from various colleges and church dignitaries throughout the country.

The Latin ones he translated and read in English. Then Rev. Father Richards announced that a business meeting of the Alumni Association would be held at the close of the exercises, and to the music of the big orchestra the hundred-year meeting of the Alumni ended. Extraordinary

KENNA ELECTED.

THE LONG STRUGGLE IN WEST VIRGINIA ENDED.

Dorr, the Man Who Has Caused the Delay, at Last Casting His Vote for the Caucus Nominee Details of To-Day's Ralloting - A Biographical

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Feb. 21 .- The unexpected has happened, and John E. Kenna will succeed himself in the United Senate. Two ballots were taken, the first giving Goff 44: Kenna, 33; scattering, 14. Another ballot was ordered, when Dorr, the man who has heretofore been making all the trouble, arose and in a short speech explaining his past action, he voted for John Kenna. Horr, the Union Labor man, who had voted for Goff, also changed his vote for Kenna, which made the requisite number. Carr and Kirk, Union Labor men, voted for Goff. The vote as aunounced was: Kenna, 46; Goff, 45. The whole number cast, 91.

[John E. Kenna, upon whom the eyes of the political world have been fixed for the past-ments, is a Virginian by birth, having been born in Velcoulon, April 10, 1848. Though hardly more than a boy at the outbreak of the war he entered the Confederate army as a private, was wounded in 1864 and surrendered at Shreveport, La., the next year. He after ward entered college and studied law in Charleston, where he was made prosecuting attorney in 1872. He was elected to the Forty-fifth. Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh Con-gresses as a Democrat. He was also elected to the Forty-Eighth Congress, but resigned when he was elected to the Senate to succeed Henry G. Davis. He is the youngest member Houses. In the speech the Queen said that England would take part in a conference with Germany and the United States in reference to affairs in Samon. The conference would take place at Berlin, and would be a continuation of a conference on the same matter which was begun at Washington. The address continued:

"In view of the increased expenditures for warlike preparations of other nations, it is necessary for us to increase the precautions bitherto taken for the safety of our shores and the protection of our commerce. My relations with foreign powers are at present friendly, but I have no right to assume that this condition is impossible of change. Your attention will be asked at an early date for measures tending to develop the material resources of Ireland and for amending the constitution of various tribunals having special jurisdiction over the real property of Ireland. The recent enactments made by your honorable body for the restoring of order and confidence in Ireland have aircady been productive of salutary results. A measure for restoring gold coinage to a satisfactory condition will be submitted to you. Measures regarding various local subjects will also be submitted."
